3-DAY PROGRAM COMPLETED FOR FARM INSTITUTE

Sessions Will Open At 10 A. M. Wednesday In Memorial Building

GRANGES, BUSINESS BUREAU COOPERATE

Speakers, Music Listed; Five Short Plays To Be Presented

Presenting an attractive three-day schedule of instruction and entertainment, the annual Salem independent farm institute, a red-letter event for hundreds of growers throughout the Salem district, as well as city residents, will open at the Memorial building Wednesday morning.

The Salem farm event has in past years won recognition as one of the outstanding affairs of its kind in Ohio and this year, according to officials, should be no exception. A series of five short plays, a three-act drama, a concert by the Farmmount Children's Home band, an old-time fiddlers' contest and numerous talks on important rural topics are listed during the three days.

Everything Is Ready
Price Coe, chairman of the institute's program committee, announced today that all arrangements for the event have been completed and that "everything's set" for the opening session, scheduled at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Mr. Nebo grange No. 664 will be in charge of the inaugural meeting, which will be opened with the invocation by Rev. C. F. Evans, pastor of the First Christian church here. The audience will be led in singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by the grange chorus, while the latter will then render a special arrangement of "Praise Ye the Father."

L. E. Nichols, president of the Salem Business Bureau, will give the address of welcome to the visiting farmers, while Willis Boone, institute president, will give the response. William L. Manahan of Defiance, a state speaker and an expert on farm problems, will discuss "Rural Life at the Crossroads."

Woolster Woman To Speak
Mrs. Charles Lawrence of Woolster, the second of the state speakers coming here to address the institute, will speak on the subject, "Community Builders and Wreckers."

Homeworth Girl Burned; Oil, Used On Fire Explodes

Bernice Schultz, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz, of near Homeworth, was in the Alliance City hospital today suffering from burns about the face, arms, chest and thighs, sustained Sunday when carbon oil she used to start a fire exploded in the kitchen of their farm home.

The girl's condition was described as fair at the hospital. Her mother said she was burned slightly about the hands. They were in the room when the explosion occurred as they were preparing the family breakfast.

Schultz, who was about the farm, succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any extensive damage could result.

Doris Duke

Lipstick and powder-puff are two bonds that link shopgirl and princess in bond of sisterhood. Here is Doris Duke, reputed world's richest girl "priming" at her table in New York night club, just as any daughter of "Judy O'Grady."

Authorities are investigating a letter, said to have been received by Miss Duke, allegedly containing threats against the heiress' life.

CONGRESS VOTE FIREWORKS SEEN

Gossip Already Thick About Forthcoming Elections

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Sufficient political fireworks to light up the national picture, starred by unusual conflicts between well recognized political figures, were foreseen today as likely in the forthcoming senatorial and congressional primary and general elections.

Gossip already is thick about contests involving individuals seeking to jump from the house to the senate and some former senators who may try to beat back on the political path through the congressional route.

Democrats To Meet

The Democratic congressional committee tonight steps into the middle of the picture. A meeting has been called to reorganize for the campaign. The Republican congressional committee, already organized, is awaiting developments on which to base issues for the campaign.

All of the 435 house and a third, or 32, senate seats are to be filled in November.

Few of the candidates thus far have formally announced.

Almost nationwide interest already centers in the campaign between Senator Connally and Representative Bailey, for the Texas

Rothman, DePaul Given Sentences

Changing their pleas of not guilty to guilty before Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones in Lisbon this morning, Jack Rothman and Daniel DePaul of Youngstown were sentenced to serve from one to 15 years in the Mansfield reformatory.

Rothman and DePaul were indicted by the January grand jury on burglary and larceny charges after they were surprised by Salem police in the act of robbing the Golden Eagle store here last month.

Edward Barker, East Liverpool, also indicted on a burglary and larceny charge for the theft of an automobile, withdrew his plea of not guilty in favor of one of guilty and was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary from one to 15 years.

Commissioners To Meet In Columbus

LEBON, Jan. 23.—County commissioners have arranged to attend the 53rd annual meeting of the County Commissioners' association of Ohio in Columbus Feb. 6-7.

John M. Kerr, president of the board of commissioners here, is a member of the legislative committee of the state group. It is expected that Gov. George White will be the guest speaker at the association at the opening session.

SENATE VOTES MODIFICATION OF MONEY BILL

Would Place Stabilization Fund Under Board of Five

BALLOT IS CLOSE ON PROPOSED MOVE

Action Would Take Power from Treasury Secretary Alone

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A drastic modification of President Roosevelt's monetary bill was voted by the senate banking committee today, to place the proposed stabilization fund under a board of five instead of the secretary of the treasury alone.

Names Three Members

By a close vote, the committee decided the gigantic $2,000,000,000 fund should be managed by a board composed of the secretary of the treasury, the comptroller of currency, the governor of the federal reserve board and two others appointed by the President.

Earlier, the committee had rejected an amendment by Senator McAdoo (D., Cal.), a former secretary of the treasury, to leave title to gold with the federal reserve system and take the profits from devaluation through a franchise tax on the federal reserve system.

The McAdoo proposal was recommended to the committee by several witnesses during the hearings on the bill.

Democrats Break Away

Several Democrats broke away on the 12 to 8 stabilization fund vote.

The committee continued in executive session in an effort to reach a final vote on the measure.

The stabilization fund motion was made by Senator Glass (D., Va.), secretary of the treasury in the Wilson cabinet.

Members of the committee said the vote by which the committee approved transfer of the title to federal reserve gold was 11 to 9.

Indicted by Jury, Alliance Man Wins Court Acquittal

LEBON, Jan. 23.—A verdict of acquittal was returned in the first criminal case tried before Judge W. F. Lones resulting from indictments returned by the January grand jury. John Presley, Alliance, indicted for reckless driving, was found not guilty by a jury of eight men and four women.

Lone Hann, East Liverpool, formerly of Salem, indicted for cutting with intent to wound Charles Wilson, entered a plea of guilty to assault and battery, and was sentenced to six months in the county jail and fined $200 and costs in addition. Hann, wearing cream-colored spats, was told by the court that the only redeeming feature about him was that he did not steal, but as a fighter, his reputation was county-wide.

William Pepper, East Liverpool, indicted for larceny of chattels, including two $250 gold pieces from the home of Tillie Davis, East Liverpool, entered a plea of guilty to petty larceny, and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail.

Ernest Curren and Alvin Franklin, both of East Liverpool, jointly indicted for larceny from the home of Gus and Effie Alexander, entered pleas of guilty to petty larceny, and each was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $250 and costs in addition. The court declared that the men should remain confined until the fine and costs are paid.

Insult Must Go, Is Greece's Order

(By Associated Press)
ATHENS, Jan. 23.—Only in illness did Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities czar, have hope today of refuge from the United States law. The Greek government held firm to its decision that Insull must leave the country. His permit to remain expires Jan. 31, but the ministry of the interior stated that, for humanitarian reasons, the government will prolong his permit if Insull's recent illness becomes aggravated.

Such a prolongation, it was apparent, would be merely a temporary matter and would not solve the question of where the 74-year-old fugitive from justice would go from Greece.

Cuba Recognition Near, Reports Show

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Humming cable wires between the United States and South America carried indication today that formal recognition of Cuba might be declared before tonight, or at least by tomorrow.

Envoys from 17 Latin nations awaited reactions from their governments to the intention expressed yesterday by President Roosevelt, when all were summoned to the white house yesterday.

Defendant's Illness Halts Hearing

Dr. Alice Wynekoop, agony written on her pallid features, is shown in her wheel chair as she was taken away from the courtroom after her condition was found to be such that a delay in the trial was necessitated.

Murder on Operating Table May Be Unsolved Mystery

Case of Dr. Alice Wynekoop Continued To February; Defendant Gravely Ill

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—There was a growing belief in some quarters today that the death of Rheta Wynekoop will forever remain an unsolved mystery.

The possibility of a quick legal decision on the question of the guilt or innocence of Rheta's mother-in-law, Dr. Alice Wynekoop, having been dissipated for the time being, there were many persons, both in and out of the criminal court, who believed the elderly defendant would never again face the ordeal of a trial.

"It's just like freeing her," Burdine Gardner, of Indianapolis, father of the dead Rheta, said in commenting on yesterday's decision by Judge Joseph B. David, to declare a mistrial because of the possibility that Dr. Wynekoop would fail dead before the eyes of the jury.

"I don't believe," Gardner said, "that she will ever be tried now, for if her condition is as bad as they say it is she won't be any better next month than she is today, in the interest of justice I feel that she should have been tried now."

Lowry Back From CWA Conference

LEBON, Jan. 23.—"All CWA projects that have been approved and not started have been cleared as 'frozen' for the time being at least," E. M. Lowry, CWA director for this county, announced upon his return here from a conference with Mayor E. O. Broughton at Columbus.

"Our quota of workers has been reduced, and we can put no more men on jobs," Lowry said. "Executives at the Columbus CWA officials are only following instructions they receive from Washington, and then pass the word on to the county CWA directors throughout the state."

"We are going ahead with reduced forces on all projects that have been started in this county, but no new work will be undertaken until we have direct word from Columbus."

Two Are Released

STUEBENVILLE, O., Jan. 23.—After pleading not guilty to a charge of murdering former Mayor Benjamin Oliver of Yorkville, Thomas Viola, 32, of Follansbee, W. Va., and Frank Romano, 32, Pittsburgh, were released under $15,000 bond each.

Judge J. O. Oglesby held only circumstantial evidence had been produced against them.

KIDNAPED MAN'S WIFE REPORTED NEAR COLLAPSE

Bremer Family Declares No Contact Made With Abductors

GUARD MAINTAINED AT FATHER'S HOME

Flashing Lights, Mysterious Truck Trips Are Studied

(By Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Edward G. Bremer, wife of the wealthy banker held for $200,000 ransom by kidnapers, was represented by close friends today as being near collapse as members of the Bremer family denied any contact had been made with the abductors.

Adolph Bremer, Jr., brother of the 37-year-old president and owner of the Commercial State bank, reiterated denials of the family that any word had been received from the gang since Edward was seized last Wednesday.

Cal's Report 'Hoax'

"No contact whatsoever has been made," said Adolph, Jr., "and reports that Dr. H. T. Nippert had received communications are all 'hoax.' Nippert is the family physician."

However, reports persisted, despite denials, that a second communication had been received from the abductors in a bottle thrown from a window at the home of the Bremer family physician, flashing lights by an automobile, and a mysterious trip by a private truck.

In addition, a heavy police guard was maintained at the home of Adolph Bremer, wealthy brewer and father of the abducted 37-year-old bank president.

The $200,000 ransom in old $5, $10 and $20 bills, not numbered consecutively, has been ready for delivery for two days and last night a large sedan stopped before the home of Dr. Nippert. The car's lights were flashed on twice, the porch light was turned on for a moment and the car disappeared. Officials would not say whether this was intended as a signal from the abductors.

This was followed by a hurried sortie into the country west of Minneapolis by two automobile loads of heavily armed Hennepin county authorities on the tip the kidnap gang had its headquarters at Medicine Lake.

Another Theory Exploded

Sheriff John P. Wall, however, exploded that theory by establishing ownership of two airplanes and two big sedans at the lake, which had aroused suspicion of residents.

Police Chief Thomas Dahill said police had no knowledge of the reported contact.

However, it was recalled that shortly after Bremer was seized between 8:20 a. m. and 8:30 a. m. last Wednesday, leaving his eight-year-old daughter Betty at the exclusive Summit girls' school, Adolph Bremer pleaded for law enforcement agencies to remain out of the case until his son was safely returned.

He felt any police activity at the time would endanger the younger Bremer's life.

Retiring Member of Board Honored

DAMASCUS, Jan. 23.—F. W. Israel, who retired Dec. 31 from the Goshen Board of Education after serving 14 years, was honored last evening when the board members and their wives gave a dinner for him at the high school.

County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn and wife from Youngstown and Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Cobbs of Damascus were guests.

The dinner was served by the Domestic Science class of the school under the supervision of Miss Pauline Ingram, Salem.

Principal C. O. Long acted as toastmaster. Talks were given by Mr. Rayburn, Dr. Cobbs, H. O. Stanley and L. M. Burton.

Mr. Burton, board president, presented Mr. Israel with a gift.

Salem Debate Team Downs Columbiana

Salem High's negative debaters were awarded the decision over Columbiana affirmatives in an Ohio debating league contest at the Salem school auditorium Monday night.

Paul Strader, Vera Yoder and Paul Smith composed the Salem team.

It was the second victory in as many starts for Salem debaters tutored by J. C. Guiler. The affirmative defeated Ravenna speakers last week.

Babe Born In Taxi, Driver to Save Tip

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 23.—An Anthony Chockiewies, taxicab driver, received a ten-cent tip which he plans to keep.

It is from the father of a baby who was born in his cab as the driver raced vainly to the hospital.

LOOT CASH REGISTER OF WALL PAPER CO.

W. F. Schwartz, Manager of Salem Wall Paper & Paint Co., Forced to Give Up Money At Point of Revolver

Cautioning their victim not to get nervous, "we won't hurt you," two youthful bandits at 8:45 this morning held up and robbed W. F. Schwartz, manager of the Salem Wall Paper & Paint company store, 619 East State st., and escaped with more than $70.

The bandits are reported to have driven south on the Salem-Lisbon rd. in a coupe. Authorities throughout the district were requested to be on the lookout for them.

As the two men walked into the store, one of them asked Schwartz for permission to use the telephone.

Schwartz directed him to the phone then informed him as to where the telephone book could be found. Suddenly the other bandit drew a revolver from his coat and laid it on the counter.

"We want your money, Dad!" he informed Schwartz, an elderly man.

Orders Register Opened

Picking up his gun, the bandit returned it to his coat pocket and walked behind the counter. Holding his hand over the gun which he pointed at Schwartz, he ordered the latter to open the cash register.

"Don't get nervous, we're not going to hurt you. If you just do what I say," the thug told Schwartz, who opened the cash drawer.

Scoping up bills and change from the register, the bandit then turned his attention to Schwartz, searching the manager's pockets for money.

Patrolman William Reardon, called out to investigate, reported the bandits obtained approximately $40 from the cash register and took about $30 from Schwartz.

Completing their search the bandits ordered Schwartz to walk into a rear room. They backed out of the store, then walked quickly to their automobile, parked in front of the place.

Schwartz, ignoring the bandits' orders to remain in the room for several minutes, ran to the telephone to call police but found the line "dead." The first bandit, who had requested the use of the phone, had cut the wires.

Running to the front of the store, Schwartz called to Harry Ball of Salem to summon police.

Patrolman Reardon responded and, after receiving Schwartz' report of the holdup, started a search for the thugs but without result. He then called authorities in neighboring cities, providing them with descriptions of the bandits and their machine.

Hull Is Back

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Jan. 23.—Our able and amiable secretary of state, Cordell Hull, returned from a conference and entered through the front door. Our delegates generally climb over the back fence in the dead of night when they get back.

If this administration never did another thing, the New Deal toward all our neighbors to the south, west, gained us many friends, and the best friend anyone can have is their neighbors.

Give the Philippines their freedom, and take that god-father clause out of our Cuban treaty, and first thing you know we would be called "brother" and not "Big Brother."

CHAPTER FIFTY-SIX
It was all over. And Patricia lay in her own bedroom, safe, secure, snug across the bed, was asleep. She was still in evening dress, Julian's orchids, crushed and crumpled, still clung to her rhinestone shoulder strap. She had wept, she thought, forever. She thought that she would never stop.

For weeks she had controlled herself. The floodgates were loosed at last. Deeper, deeper she forced her shaking body into the pillows. She wanted to beat her head against the floor, to scream until she could not think, to do anything that would annihilate the desperation of her spirit.

Her own violence wore her out, but she was still sobbing quietly when Julian rapped at the bedroom door.

"It's very late, Patricia," he answered from the girl's door. "Please unlock the door. Let me I must talk to you. You must be sensible."

"Go away, Julian. For heaven's sake go away."

"When you want me I'll be in the room door. I'll wait, if need be, all morning but we must talk it out."

His footsteps retreated. She heard him going down the stairs. After a long time she sat up and looked dazedly about the familiar, luxurious, rose-colored room. Outside the storm, like her own despair, had reached its height. Drapes of rosy taffeta shut out the light of day, but not the sound. She could hear the wild dash of the rain against the panes, the creaking of the trees, the howling of the rain.

Julian was waiting for her in the room. As she had seen him a thousand times before, she imagined him now, slumped in the leather arm chair, a pack of cards spread on the table before him, his head bowed beneath his shock of snow white hair, his gray eyes intent, his mind absorbed upon some problem of the only game he considered worth a moment's concentration. Julian waiting for her to come and talk it out. What use was further talk? There had been too much talk already. Words that got them nowhere.

Julian would never understand. He was incapable of seeing her side of it. For him the problem had been solved. He, Julian Haverholt, had saved the situation.

He had saved the shreds of her reputation. Certain doors might be shut to her, certain stories might be told, certain very proper people might sniff and raise the eyebrows. The fact remained that Julian's audacity and nonchalance had scored again. He had snatched victory from defeat. By his magnetic magnetism he had turned a disaster into the appealing.

State Highway "Cat's Eye" Markers Guide Traffic On Route 14 Underpass

Luminous Center Line Device Installed at Two Other Points to Test Effectiveness

As part of its state-wide program, undertaken pursuant to a plan of Governor White to make Ohio highways safer, the Ohio highway department has installed luminous center-line markers in sections of State Route 14, northwest of Salem, it was announced today.

The markers were installed over approximately 2,000 feet of road designated by the state as "fog area" and also in the underpass on the highway.

The luminous device consists of a metal marker adapted for easy insertion in the center-line road surface. The marker contains a reflector button "cat's eye" in each and facing approaching traffic coming in opposite directions. The "cat's eye" vividly shows up the center of the road to the motorist driving at night or when visibility is poor because of fog or storm.

O. W. Merrell, state highway director, expressed the opinion that this new type marker would be the means of preventing many accidents at hazardous places on the highways.

The markers will also be placed at the most hazardous points as indicated by the analysis of automobile accidents being made by the state highway department on state highways outside incorporated municipalities.

LIONEL BARRYMORE

duction is funny enough, and with such players as Lionel Barrymore, Alice Brady, Conway Tearle, Mary Carlisle, Katharine Alexander (from the Broadway stage), and William Janney (filling the leading roles, the various amusing incidents are played to the fullest extent.

All Mixed Up

Everyone loves the wrong person, it seems, in this scintillating plot. Young Janney loves the equally juvenile Miss Carlisle. But Mary is fascinated by a man of the world (Tearle), who in turn is loved and dominated by the rather catly Miss Alexander, aunt of the girl. Alice Brady is Barrymore's wife and Mary's mother, a romantic dreamer who mistakes Tearle for a man she had loved in her youthful days. The whole melange is set down in Barrymore's country estate to work out its own destiny. It does in ways that are awfully funny, sometimes dramatic and occasionally tinged with emotion and pathos.

Whole Cast Good

Barrymore, as the crabbed father, interested only in his daughter's happiness and convinced that all the rest of the party are idiots, gives another of his sharp, penetrating portrayals.

As for Miss Brady with her good intentioned blunders, outlandish gestures and superlatives—she is cast perfectly and proves again that she is one of Hollywood's most talented comedienne.

Miss Carlisle, 1932 Baby star, does by far her best work to date as the daughter, and Miss Alexander, as the aunt, brings a touch of sophistication to the picture that is really good.

A Review of the Day's News
By Arthur Brisbane

THE JAPANESE-RUSSIAN situation becomes more dangerous. A warning published in Moscow by the head of the Communist party says: "We must be prepared for an attack by Japan at any moment."

Mr. Kaganovich, the Communist head, adds: "If the Japanese generals dare to move against our frontiers, they will feel the power and might of our red army. They must remember the Soviet union is not afraid of Russia of 1904."

THE JAPANESE, if war comes, will remember it very distinctly for many years after the war ends. Today's Russians, fighting for a country they believe belongs to them, owning the land on which they work, instead of fighting as slaves for czars and grand dukes, will do some real fighting.

ON SUNDAY, Moscow celebrated the tenth anniversary of the death of Lenin, the other the anniversary of "Bloody Sunday," when, miserable, half-starved Russians, crowded to the imperial palace to beg for food, instead of being shot down, were killed.

Those that tearfully recall the brutal murder of the czar and his family quite forget the unnecessary and cruel massacre of the half-starved beggars at the palace. The Russians did not forget.

THOSE that criticize the President's program in regard to spending of $12,000,000,000 in 1934, providing employment and starting up industry, do not know all the interesting figures, or they would not criticize the amount.

In 1933 American workers received in wages $32,000,000,000 less than they received in 1929, when conditions were good. And those most severely affected are men working for low wages. The government proposes to spend 12 billion dollars in 1934, to start up industry, do not know all the interesting figures, or they would not criticize the amount.

AN airplane flies from Washington, D. C. to New York in 50 minutes. A meteor would make the trip in 15 seconds. Passing through the thicker atmosphere, meteors are heated to a temperature of 3,000 degrees. A small one would destroy any airplane. Incidentally, meteors fall every year 100,000 tons to the weight of the earth, and have been known that for millions of years.

Failed to Report "Suicide" of Wife

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Cloyd Kountz, former broker, was in the police line-up today to repeat his story of mental fog which he said prevented him from reporting his wife's suicide for nearly two weeks. He is charged with homicide.

He said he found his wife on the kitchen floor of their Brooklyn apartment with gas jets opened on January 8. He talked at some length to her but obtained no answer, he said. Police learned of the death yesterday.

"My nerves began to crack and I went away," he added.

Yesterday police learned that he had been in Cleveland and Mansfield, O., during the interim. His father, William, lives in the latter city.

He mentioned in an incidental way today that he had visited the apartment several times during the last fortnight, but questioning along this line was not pressed.

CWA REDUCTION PLANS PROCEED

Presidential Order Is Unchanged Despite Protests

BULLETIN
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 23.—Virtually the entire Ohio congressional delegation will support a movement to obtain additional appropriations to continue the CWA program, Gov. George White said today.

The governor asked Ohio congressmen and senators to work for an additional appropriation and, he said, not a one has asserted himself as opposed.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Presidential plans for shrinking the huge civil works administration payroll by 500,000 jobs a week, beginning next month, showed no signs of alteration today despite the growing opposition in congress and a show of protesting letters.

CWA administrators in 14 states today sampled the different job-reducing task ahead of them.

Orders from Harry L. Hopkins, the administrator, called for the immediate slicing of more than 231,000 names from the 14 payrolls. All of the states in question had exceeded their quotas.

Probe Graft Charges
Meanwhile, the justice department initiated an inquiry into graft charges in the local handling of both civil work and relief funds.

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general, recently acted in anti-kidnaping drive, today took charge of the CWA inquiry. Along with word from the CWA chief that "we are going after every crook we find," Keenan had requests to prosecute where charges were substantiated.

The administration proceeded during the day with the drafting of a billion-dollar request for new funds. About $350,000,000 would be needed to carry civil works activity into next spring, an almost equal amount for continuing the civil conservation corps for another year, and the rest for other relief activities.

There were indications a protest movement might break out on capital hill when the $1,165,000,000 emergency appropriation measure comes up for legislative consideration.

The exact number of men to be released has not been specified, although Ohio has been ordered to reduce its quota by 46,000.

Heard: Are Reduced
All 30-hour-a-week jobs were ordered reduced to 24 hours in cities of 2,500 and over, while in communities of less than that size the hour limit was cut to 15 jobs previously running for 40 hours a week were reduced to 30, and many supply purchases were stopped.

President Roosevelt was represented at the white house as determined not to expand federal spending beyond the limits mentioned in his budget.

Directions given Hopkins were to reduce the 4,000,000 CWA payroll beginning next month by about 1,000,000 jobs every two weeks until the roll was entirely or nearly clear.

11 Jurors Report
LIBECN, Jan. 23.—When the first venire of 25 jurors was called in court here to commence the new term, only 11 responded.

Many were excused because of illness, while the deaths of three were reported, the latter being C. A. Brinker, Fairfield township, Mrs. Mary E. Nold, Leetonia, and Walter deunts, Salem. Only one juror was excused on account of his business demanding his attention.

Fines Attorneys

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 23.—A little black fox has appeared on the bench of Common Pleas Judge George B. Harris. Every time an attorney or court attaché is late, he must contribute 25 cents for each minute of tardiness.

The judge also must pay.

The proceeds will go to the community fund.

Kisses She Gave To Patrolman Were Well—Just Kisses

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—There are kisses and there are kisses, but the kind Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, former collector of internal revenue, testified she swapped with a police patrol wagon driver were—she was the first witness called in Mrs. Norman E. Nottingham's $100,000 suit against her for alienation of the affections of Policeman Nottingham.

Taking advantage of the new civil code which gives the plaintiff a right to cross examine the defendant without being bound by her answers, counsel for Mrs. Nottingham summoned Mrs. Blackledge.

Without embarrassment Mrs. Blackledge testified for an hour about the kissing.

"Were they burning, hot kisses?" she was asked.

"Well, not exactly," came the response.

"Did they come under the category of platonic kisses?" "I wouldn't quite say that."

"Well, just what kind?" "Oh, just kisses."

As the 42-year-old widow gave her testimony Mrs. Nottingham, the mother of a seven-year-old daughter, sat watching her, and the policeman himself was an interested listener.

Court Set Up For Writers In Germany

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Jan. 23.—German journalists henceforth will be subject to discipline by special professional courts to be created under a decree issued today by Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, and Minister of Justice Franz Guertner.

The measure stipulates that a district press court function at the seat of every state press association with a court of appeals in Berlin.

Penalties the courts may decree range from monetary fines to the most extreme form—namely striking a defendant's name off the Nazi journalists' list which means loss of the right to work in the profession.

The law does not apply to foreign newspapermen in Germany, but only to Germans or foreigners working for German newspapers.

What Makes Liquor Storeroom? Board Asks Architects

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 23.—Ohio's liquor control board turned today to the state architect's office in an effort to determine what constitutes a desirable building for a state liquor store.

With some 2,000 sites already available, the board requested the aid of State Architect John P. Schooley.

Schooley's office was asked to submit an outline of the type of building needed for the stores at which the state will handle all package liquor sales.

There will be 187 stores scattered in the 88 counties on a basis of population. Liquor Director John A. Hughes has taken under consideration a recommendation of Ira

J. Fulton, state superintendent of banks, that preference be given to former bank buildings included in the 2,000 places offered for rent to the state.

A large force of clerks was delegated the task of sorting the bids by counties.

The liquor board has approved 422 applications for permits to sell hard liquor by the glass. The applicants, 239 of whom have received their permits, have paid fees totaling $234,870.

Educational Institutions Given Large Share of Ohio's Tax Dollar

Peak Is Reached In 1932, According to Report Compiled for Tax Commission

(This is the second of a series of six articles dealing with facts on Ohio's general property tax problem.)

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 23.—A larger portion of Ohio's tax dollar has been turned over to education institutions annually since the turn of the century.

General real property has borne the brunt of education during this period and in 1932, the schools received 39.40 per cent of every tax dollar paid in general taxes.

Reach Peak in 1930
Data compiled for the special joint taxation committee by the research division of the state tax commission shows the schools received $136,157,000 from general property taxes in 1930, the peak in the 32 year period covered by the report.

The research division decided that the educational problem was so extensive that an additional report exclusively on schools will be required to give an adequate picture of the cost of education. The survey covers only taxes assessed on general property and makes no allowance for the sums accruing to the schools from the liquid fuel tax, recently enacted, and the cigarette tax.

A summary of school taxes over a 32 year period is shown in the following table:

Year	Total School Taxes	Percent of Total Taxes
1900	$ 11,107,000	25.98
1905	25,265,000	28.55
1910	22,165,000	31.02
1915	29,132,000	31.29
1920	55,984,000	35.70
1925	110,385,000	41.44
1930	136,157,000	41.34
1932	98,113,000	39.40

"The amount of school taxes," the report says, "increased 11 times from 1900 to 1930."

In 1932 the amount was about nine times that of 1900. School taxes were one-fourth of total taxes in 1900 and were two-fifths of the total in 1930 and 1932. This is by far the largest percentage of total taxes taken by any of the units of local government.

"School debts xxx increased much more rapidly than the debt of any other subdivisions. The amount of school debt in 1932 was

Collegiate Kidnap Band Is Broken Up

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—A conviction for kidnaping, with sentences fixed at life imprisonment for two reputed members of a "collegiate band" of abductors, was hailed by officials today.

The defendants, Gail Swolley, 30, of Peoria, and Frank Souder, 31, of Benton, Ill., heard the verdict convicting them in criminal court last night of the abduction for ransom of James Hackett, Blue Island, Ill., gambler, without show of emotion.

The convictions of Swolley and Souder the authorities asserted sounded the death knell for the gang, called "collegiate" by officials because its reputed leader, Theodore "Handsome Jack" Klutas, was a former University of Illinois student.

He was shot down and killed several weeks ago when police attempted to arrest him. Another member, Julius Augustus "Babe" Jones, of St. Charles, Ill., has already pleaded guilty.
